

SANSTOL MAKES DEBUT TONIGHT MEETING HANSFORD AT HOLLYWOOD

CANADIAN HAS EDGE IN MAIN LEGION SCRAP

Blake's New Importation Shows Rugged Form in Drills; Grace, Mike Clash in Semi

By Sol Plex

George Blake, veteran ring pilot, has taken off his referee's toggery, and when he steps into the ring at Hollywood Legion Stadium tonight it will be as manager and chief second for his newest importation, Pete Sanstol, Montreal Norwegian, who opposes Georgie Hansford, local featherweight, in the main event of ten rounds.

Sanstol and Blake, who teamed up in New York recently, should

Tonight's Card

Georgie Hansford vs. Pete Sanstol, 10 rounds, 122 pounds.

Meyer Grace vs. Petie Mike, four rounds, 150 pounds.

Wally Hunt vs. Ace Dodge, four rounds, heavyweights.

Martin Zuniga vs. Gene Espinosa, four rounds, 128 pounds.

Bobby Olivas vs. Rex Reese, four rounds, 118 pounds.

Jimmy Gollindo vs. Ted Frenchy, four rounds, 126 pounds.

make an effectual combine with the former catching and tossing the leather while the latter digs up opponents and outlines the campaigns. The former, rated second in the bantam division by the National Boxing Association, is a seasoned veteran.

HANSFORD SHORT ENDER

Hansford, whose thudding fists have won him all but one start in the past eighteen months, is rated on the short end of 10 to 8 odds, chiefly on calculating the caliber of his new foe, who may prove too big a hurdle for an ambitious youth just ready to break into the big time.

Sanstol's gymnasium workouts have indicated that he is plenty rugged, but without difficulty to hit, and obviously willing at any stage to indulge in toe to toe riles. Hansford never fails to do his best so the concoction may be in a slam bang battle.

'You Show 'Em, Pete'

GEORGE BLAKE (left) probably is giving his new protege, Pete Sanstol of Canada, the above advice. Sanstol makes his debut at the Hollywood Stadium, tonight, facing Georgie Hansford in the feature event.

*Talk About "Cute"
That was Swell.
Great - Magnificent
(On the Office) Hm!*

Sanstol Is Legion Bout Favorite

Blake and New Charge

Here is George Blake, on left, and his new ring "find," Pete Sanstol, Norwegian bantam, who makes his local ring debut tonight at the American Legion stadium, when he faces George Hansford in the 10-round main event.

SANSTOL NEARS BEST TRIM FOR HANSFORD BOUT

Pete Sanstol, Montreal Norwegian battler who was brought here by George Blake, veteran manager, was near the peak in his training grind yesterday and almost ready for his ten-round bow Friday night at Hollywood Legion Stadium. He goes to the post against Georgie Hansford, hard-hitting local featherweight.

Sanstol, who put in a busy session yesterday afternoon at the Manhattan gym, has been campaigning in the East for the past five years, during which time he has engaged in 119 bouts.

In 1932 he defeated such bantams as Jimmy Thomas, Petie Hayes, Paula Rayden, Benny Schwartz, Jimmy Mack and Eugene Huat. The highlight of the year came at Toronto when he drew with Emil Pladner, recognized as the peer in the 118-pound division, in ten rounds.

His sturdiness under fire and a punch in either hand have won him rounds of praise from ring observers who have watched his workouts. Many are convinced that despite the weight he is spotting Hansford at 122 pounds, he will get over well with the fans.

BLAKE CHARGE IN L. A. DEBUT TONIGHT

TONIGHT'S CARD

Georgie Hansford vs. Pete Sanstol, 10 rounds, 122 pounds. Meyer Grace vs. Petie Mike, four rounds, 150 pounds. Wally Hunt vs. Ace Dodge, four rounds, heavyweights. Martin Zuniga vs. Gene Espinosa, four rounds, 128 pounds. Bobby Olivas vs. Rex Reese, four rounds, 118 pounds. Jimmy Gollindo vs. Ted Frenchy, four rounds, 126 pounds.

By E. W. KRAUCH

Norway is seldom associated with boxing activities, yet from a small athletic club at Oslo in the land of the midnight sun have come three outstanding ringmen—Pete Sanstol, the bantam; Haakon Hanson, middleweight; and Otto Von Porat, heavyweight—all of whom have achieved no little fame, and cash, from activity in the squared-circle.

The smallest member of this trio, Sanstol, rated second best of the 118-pounders in the universe, makes his Pacific coast bow tonight at Hollywood Legion stadium when he opposes Georgie Hansford, promising young local featherweight, in the main event that is carded for ten rounds.

UNDER BLAKE

Sanstol was brought here by George V. Blake, veteran ring mentor who tied up with the blond viking in New York recently when the latter was in the metropolis with Fidel La Barba. Boxing followers who have watched his gymnasium routine unreservedly install him a 10 to 8 choice over the home-town boy due to the latter's comparative inexperience in distance battling.

*(Takes Keny ho)
Thank You very much Loves.*

SANSTOL MAKES DEBUT TONIGHT MEETING HANSFORD AT HOLLYWOOD

CANADIAN HAS GE IN MAIN
GION SCRAP

'You Show 'Em, Pete'

s New Importation Shows
ged Form in Drills;
ce, Mike Clash in Semi

By Sol Plex
George Blake, veteran ring has taken off his referee's y, and when he steps into ng at Hollywood Legion
a tonight it will be as mand chief second for his new-ortation, Pete Sanstol, Mon-Norwegian, who opposes Hansford, local feather-in the main event of ten

ol and Blake, who teamed
New York recently, should

Tonight's Card

Georgie Hansford vs. Pete Sanstol, 10 rounds, 122 pounds.
Meyer Grace vs. Petie Mike, four rounds, 150 pounds.
Wally Hunt vs. Ace Dodge, four rounds, heavyweights.
Martin Zuniga vs. Gene Espinosa, four rounds, 128 pounds.
Bobby Olivass vs. Rex Reese, four rounds, 118 pounds.
Jimmy Golindo vs. Ted Chy, four rounds, 126 pounds.

n effectual combine with the catching and tossing the while the latter digs up op-and outlines the campaigns.
rmer, rated second in the division by the National Association, is a seasoned

WORD SHORT ENDED

ford, whose thudding fists on him all but one start in t eighteen months, is rated short end of 10 to 8 odds, on calculating the caliber of foeman, who may prove too urdle for an ambitious youth ady to break into the big tol's gymnasium workouts ndicated that he is plenty

, but withal not difficult and obviously willing at age to indulge in toe to toe
s. Hansford never fails to best so the concoction may in a slam bang battle.

GEORGE BLAKE (left) probably is giving his new protege, Pete Sanstol of Canada, the above advice. Sanstol makes his debut at the Hollywood Stadium, tonight, facing Georgie Hansford in the feature event.

*Talk About "Cute"
That was Swell.
Great - Magnificent
On the Office! Hm!*

Sanstol Is Legion Bout Favorite

Blake and New Charge

BLAKE CHARGE
IN L. A. DEBUT
TONIGHT

TONIGHT'S CARD

Georgie Hansford vs. Pete Sanstol, 10 rounds, 122 pounds. Meyer Grace vs. Petie Mike, four rounds, 150 pounds. Wally Hunt vs. Ace Dodge, four rounds, heavyweights. Martin Zuniga vs. Gene Espinosa, four rounds, 128 pounds. Bobby Olivass vs. Rex Reese, four rounds, 118 pounds. Jimmy Golindo vs. Ted Frenchy, four rounds, 126 pounds.

By E. W. KRAUCH

Norway is seldom associated with boxing activities, yet from a small athletic club at Oslo in the land of the midnight sun have come three outstanding ringmen—Pete Sanstol, the bantam; Haakon Hanson, middleweight; and Otto Von Porat, heavyweight—all of whom have achieved no little fame, and cash, from activity in the squared circle.

CHAS. McDONALD

The smallest member of this trio, Sanstol, rated second best of all the 118-pounders in the universe, makes his Pacific coast bow tonight at Hollywood Legion stadium when he opposes Georgie Hansford, promising young local featherweight, in the main event that is carded for ten rounds.

UNDER BLAKE

Sanstol was brought here by George V. Blake, veteran ring mentor who tied up with the blond viking in New York recently when the latter was in the metropolis with Fidel La Barba. Boxing followers who have watched his gymnasium routine unreservedly install him a 10 to 8 choice over the home-town boy due to the latter's comparative inexperience in distance battling.

SANSTOL NEARS BEST TRIM FOR HANSFORD BOUT

Pete Sanstol, Montreal Norwegian battler who was brought here by George Blake, veteran manager, was near the peak in his training grind yesterday and almost ready for his ten-round bow Friday night at Hollywood Legion Stadium. He goes to the post against Georgie Hansford, hard-hitting local featherweight.

Sanstol, who put in a busy session yesterday afternoon at the Manhattan gym, has been campaigning in the East for the past five years, during which time he has engaged in 119 bouts.

In 1932 he defeated such bantams as Jimmy Thomas, Petie Hayes, Paula Rayden, Benny Schwartz, Jimmy Mack and Eugene Huat. The highlight of the year came at Toronto when he drew with Emil Pladner, recognized as the peer in the 118-pound division, in ten rounds.

His sturdiness under fire and a punch in either hand have won him rounds of praise from ring observers who have watched his workouts. Many are convinced that despite the weight he is spotting Hansford at 122 pounds, he will get over well with the fans.

Here is George Blake, on left, and his new ring "find," Pete Sanstol, Norwegian bantam, who makes his local ring debut tonight at the American Legion stadium, when he faces Georgie Hansford in the 10-round main event.

*(Takes Keny Ho)
Thank You very much
Lovers.*